THE MAY BASKET.

Once there were four little girls. Their names were Ruth, Annie, Inez and Lottle Shelby. They lived about a mile from the city. As there were only two or three houses near-by, they had few playmates.

Every year before May Day they would make several May baskets to send to their friends.

One year, just before they began making their baskets, Ruth, the eldest of the four, was taken sick. Now Ruth could plan how would be prettiest to make the baskets, so her work was a great loss to the others.

"Suppose we ask mother to help us," suggested Inez. "That wouldn't be us making them," answered Annie. But they soon decided that they would make only one basket, and that was the prettiest they had ever made.

The next day they took scissors and crepe paper and cut it out. They covered a large basket with the pink paper. Lottie cut some silver stars out of some old paper they had, and pasted them on the basket. They put a small bow of pink ribbon on each side of it.

But the prettiest part of all was the flowers. There were verbenas, roses, irises, geraniums and many others. Under the flowers were oranges, apples, bananas, sandwiches, candy, pickles and cakes.

About 7 o'clock in the evening of the 1st of May, the doorbell of the Shelby home rang loud. Mrs. Shelby hurried to the door, but saw no one. Looking down at her feet she saw a beautiful basket. Picking up a note she read: "To Ruth Shelby, with love." "I wonder who sent this," she said. Just then she heard a laugh. Looking behind the lilac bush she found Annio, behind the rose bush lnez, and behind the grape-vine Lottie.

MAY RAWLINGS.

Once there was a mother bird who had ten young baby birds. The bables and the mother bird lived in a corn field and had their nest there too.

One day as the mother bird went away to get some food for the young ones, the bables heard farmer Brown say to his brother: "Brother Jack, we must get some one to cut the corn, as it is too long."

Just as the mother bird landed on the nest the young ones said, "Mother! mother! farmer Brown is going to have the corn cut to-morrow." The mother said, "Never fear, my children, we will stay one more day." The next day the mother went away to get some food, mother went away to get some food,

CHILDREN'S LETTERS.

Dear Editor,—I am so glad we have a larger page. I have not written for a long time, as we do not take the Sunday paper. The page must be improving. It blows just like old March wind to day. The whippoorwills make a fuse every night here. I have to laugh at an old colored woman. She is atraid of them. I have read quite a few books since school closed. That is about all there is to do her besides work, and I do not do much. There are three little girls.

J. J. McDERMOTT National Open Champion 1911 to 1913 Pipe smoking gives added pleasure to a golfer when the pipe is filled with Tuxedo. Tuxedo provides more keen enjoyment than any other tobacco I know."

ALEX CAMPBELL Country Club, Brookline, Mass. "I am always glad to speak a good word for Tuxedo tobacco. Constant use of it only serves to make it better liked. Its fragrant, soothing flavor makes it the choice of many golfers."

National Open Champion 1907, says: "Tuxedo, cool and mild, is essentially the smoke that satisfies. Many of my fellow golfers agree with me in giving preference to Tuxedo."

Tee Up! Smoke Up!

S satisfying as the sounding smack of the A perfect drive, is the open-air relish of the perfect smoke—Tuxedo. Both go together, too. When you grab your bag and start for the links, grab up your tin of Tuxedo and take it along.

"Follow through" the snappy afternoon with Tuxedo. Put Tuxedo in your pipe and you will "put" the best. And at "the nineteenth hole" rest up and relax with a good, solid smoke of Tuxedo. That's the advice of good golfers everywhere.

It's worth your while to try Tuxedo. Especially if a sensitive tongue prevents pipe smoking.

Tuxedo positively cannot bite-not even if you smoke pipeful after pipeful, as many as you can crowd into a day or a week. Tuxedo is made of only the finest, choicest, selected leaves of perfectly aged Burley tobacco. It is made by the original "Tuxedo Process"which removes every trace of bite and sting and develops all the wonderful mildness, fragrance and flavor of the Burley Leaf in a way that no other brand of tobacco has ever successfully imitated.
